A Note from Eastward

Dear Friend,

We are so excited you can join us for D'Sozo WA 2018, our third camp in Western Australia! It is the sincere desire of the camp organisers that D'Sozo will inspire youth and families to serve God and our church in front-line missionary work.

The needs are great. Everywhere we look in this world we see people in need. 7 billion of them! Together, you and I can help make an impact in meeting those needs. Yes! The opportunities for our lives are limitless! Together, we can be co-workers with Christ and angels in the great work of bringing hope to the hopeless, life to the dying, and joy to those who have never tasted the joy & sweetness of our Saviour's love :)

It is our prayer that this D'Sozo camp will be a turning point in our Christian walk. As we seek to follow the example of Christ, we will draw closer to Him to behold more of His matchless love. And we will enjoy exploring a 'life-without-limits!'

A big thank you to our wonderful friends in WA who help make camp possible by their faithful work during the year. Above all we thank our loving God for his grace, goodness and providential leading.

We love Him, because He first loved us :)

We hope you have a wonderful time enjoying camp, and leave, inspired with a new vision of what your life may be in the most exciting work ever given to us!

Guest Accommodation

Non-participant family members may stay at camp, however availability depends on the number of guests and participants we have. There could possibly be a few dormitory style rooms available or you could choose to bring your own caravan or tent. There is a cost involved to stay which is available upon request from the office.

We do request that children who are not participating in the camp program be well supervised at ALL times so as not to disrupt the classes and programs.

Visitors

We appreciate your interest in D'Sozo Camp, however because of the full program, we ask you to please contact the camp office to arrange a visit. We regret that meal service for visitors is not available.

Problems at Camp

Our aim is to optimise the camp experience. It can be unfair to others when a participant refuses to abide by the rules of camp, thereby disrupting the whole atmosphere of camp. We therefore expect participants to follow ALL camp codes and policies, whether they agree with them or not. Each participant must also be willing to accept the leadership of the camp staff. Eastward administration reserves the right to send home any participant who does not comply. In such an event, the parent or guardian is responsible for the cost of the transportation, and the participant will forfeit his or her camp fees.

What NOT to bring

There are a number of items that we ask participants not to bring. You will find this list in the section called "What to Bring & Not to Bring". Please be sure to leave these items at home.

Personal Preparation

To optimise your camp experience, participants should arrive well rested and spiritually prepared for a time of fellowship and community work.

Spiritual Focus

More than just a time to learn new things and make friends, we pray that D'Sozo WA will be an opportunity to come aside from the business of life, to reconnect with God. For this purpose, time will be scheduled for personal devotions and morning and evening worships.

We especially ask that you refrain from promoting controversial or unclear doctrinal subjects which tend to create division. Refusal to do so may result in a request to leave.

Eastward is a self-supporting ministry to aid the Seventh-day Adventist Church. We believe and uphold the 28 fundamental beliefs of our church [1]. We seek to uphold the plain teachings of the Bible as our guide and authority. We also place emphasis on the Spirit of Prophecy (writings of Ellen G White) as inspired by God, to illuminate and magnify scripture.

Camp Codes and Policies

As a ministry we aim to inspire, equip and encourage others to know God and share the good news of the gospel. All camp codes have been developed with this object in mind.

Of course we understand that following any set of 'rules' does not make us right with God necessarily, however standards have their place and do play an important role in the success of any program. We are asking that you willingly and happily support all the camp codes that are outlined below.

Please note: that by applying to attend D'Sozo Camp you are agreed to abide by our camp codes.

Food

Camp food (which is delicious!) is vegetarian and dairy-free. However, camp food service is not able to cater to individual dietary requirements. Participants with food allergies or sensitivities must take personal responsibility to avoid such items. Anyone needing to bring specialised food items to accommodate their dietary needs must clear this in advance with camp administration. Such food items must be stored in the camp kitchen. No food items may be stored in your lodgings.

Meals

We will provide two main meals (breakfast and lunch) and a light third meal.

Social Relations

We encourage the formation of true Christ centered friendships. Exclusive and/ or intense friendships with either sex are not in harmony with the principles or goals of the camp. Romantic friendships may distract you and/or others from receiving the blessing of camp.

Competition

The spirit of competition in all its forms is discouraged at camp.

Clothing

For Girls

Everyday wear for most camp activities will be modest, sturdy skirts or dresses. Skirts should fall below the knee at all times and allow a full stride when walking. Slits must end below the knee.

Low-cut, see-through, tight, or sleeveless tops are not appropriate. Tops must be long enough to cover bare skin when reaching or bending over.

For Boys

Neat casual clothing, such as jeans or long cotton pants, Pants or shorts must not be baggy or low-riding. No tank tops or sleeveless tops.

Long pants are required for Sabbath programs. Ties are appropriate but not mandatory.

If you bring a hat, please remember to remove it for prayer or when you are inside a building.

For Both

Participants should bring sturdy clothing and shoes for hiking to filming locations or participating in other outdoor activities.

Please avoid any questionable lettering or pictures on clothing.

Laundry Facilities

Washing machines are available at Camp Kennedy. Fees apply.

Thank you

We wish to thank you in advance for your cooperation with our camp codes and policies. You will find that your happy, positive attitude toward any camp rules will indeed enhance your experience whilst at camp.

A Note for Parents

D'Sozo is a family-friendly youth camp. Youth will be organised into units with youth leaders, throughout camp. Youth leaders help the younger ones with personal devotions and unit sharing time. They encourage timeliness and adherence to camp rules, and help the youth gain spiritual blessings from camp.

Youth 12+ can attend camp without their parents, and will be under the charge of their youth leaders.

We do encourage families to attend camp together, where possible. If parents attend, their children will be accommodated with them at night (instead of rooming with the unit), and be assigned to a unit during the day.

If parents aren't in attendance, youth will be accommodated with their unit, and youth leaders.

All family members are encouraged to participate in camp activities.

We value the role of parenting very highly and we deem the responsibility to supervise younger participants whilst at camp as a most honoured trust. We see it as our duty to safeguard your child physically, emotionally and spiritually and will do our utmost to do this.

Our one paramount aim is to honour and glorify our Maker and our King in all that we do and say. Camp can only be effective as we are surrendered to Christ. We plead for your prayer support as we prepare for camp, that each of us at camp are fully submitted to our Saviour's control so that all may see the lovely Jesus in our midst.

Thank you

Again, thank you for this opportunity and for your support. If you have any questions or need some more information, contact details are below. We are more than happy to help you with your enquiries.
